Colors: MAROON AND STEEL

Motto: UNA VITAE PARAMUS

ALMA MATER

Our Maroon and Steel
May always feel
We're with you to a man
Maroon and Steel
The hub of the wheel
We'll do for you all we can
Maroon and Steel
Our memories will
Drift back to you o'er and o'er
Our Alma Mater dear
West Reading need not fear
We'll be with you forever more.

Foreword

Once again the school year comes to a close and another graduating class prepares to take its place in the world. We as seniors realize that an important part of our life is ending--a part of our life which we shall never forget.

Those exciting games, formal dances and sport hops, initiation, class trips, Christmas parties; these are but a few of the good times we've had together. In this edition the West Reading High School Vaquero staff has tried to capture some of these features of school life. We feel that our purpose will have been well accomplished if this book can bring back happy memories many years from now.

The staff wishes success to future Vaquero staffs and graduates of West Reading High School.

To Jerry Witwer, Millie Albert leaves her position on the Be-Teen Fashion Board at Pomeroy's.

Phil Bailey turns over his jobs at St. Clair's and the Abraham Lincoln Hotel to Iris Pottelger.

Dawn Beldler bequeaths her magic touch on the organ to Sonny DeCamillo.

Alvin Bewley's crooner impersonations go to Karl Neuroth.

Jay Beyerle wills his Tommy Dorsey trombone technique to Gerald Straub.

To Millie Auge, Joan Bouchat leaves her athletic ability and ambition to be a professional swimmer.

Bruce Brown gives his towering frame to Margie DiMascolo.

Barbara Burk leaves her capability for managing financial affairs to William Runkle.

Tommy Cardinal turns over his "extremely mild" manner to Dick Latshaw.

Niss Chapman leaves his everlasting love for jazz to Fran Hettinger.

Barbara Churan transfers her unusual dramatic ability to Don Lemin.

Glubbe Ciervo wishes to confer her numerous earrings to Frankie Weidner.

Joan Crocona surrenders her typing ability to Richard Merkle.

Carl D'Angelo sacrifices his stylish "French" haircuts to Shirley Wade.

Peanut Ellis wills his extensive vocabulary and quaint expressions to Buddy McGrath.

Bob Fidler generously bestows his secret love life to Shirley Bast.

Judy Flickinger bestows her favorite Home Ec. classes to Phil Hower.

Lucie Haehnel wills her frequent giggling outbursts to Otto Wagner.

Woodie Hiester sacrifices his five feet two inches to Bob Hessler.

To Joe Piscitelli, Carolyn Horn leaves her famous motherly class play rolls.

Bill Kaley bestows his outstanding track ability to Winnie Scheck.

Ruth Letgemann generously gives her water pageant performances to Doris Weidenheimer.

Doug McDonald generously bequeaths his clodhoppers to Rosemary Hohl.

Pat Miller leaves her professional soda-jerk experience to Bob Cremer.

To Normie Metz, Bonnie Munroe bestows her art ability and love for horses.

Ruth Nagle transfers her cooking and homemaking ability to Louie Talarico.

Janet Porecco generously wills her petite stature to A. Hammerschmidt.

Ray Reber willingly releases his set of drums to Anna Rose Damore.

Dale Reichert confers his "cool, calm, and collected" temper to Jeannette Kohl.

Billy Reger wants to leave his stone collection and love for science with John Reinert.

Jim Rentschler donates his Best Dressed Senior title to Fritz Hierl.

Jack Rhoda will surrender his crew cut and tuba to Anthony Marino.

Terry Sands shall leave his Bobby Riggs pillows with Tom Voelker. To Don Cherry, Carl Schnellenbach releases his athletic ability and "triangle" situations.

Jack Shaner wills his many and changeable love affairs to David Diener.

Judy Spang donates her shy, but friendly smile to David Grossberg.

John Spannuth bestows his expert driving ability upon Mary Showers.

Donald Straub gives his aptitude for Math and promptness in getting things done to Niener Munroe.

Last, but not least, Dawn Werner presents her bookkeeping and shorthand ability to George Sponagle.

Business goes where it is well treated

Success, satisfaction and confidence always accompany a service well rendered. For example, our business is growing. Not the "overnight" growth, but a nice, steady year-to-year increase. It is indeed a great satisfaction to look upon this growing list of loyal customers. We know it was possible only through the service well rendered those whom we serve and the confidence they have in our ability. We believe the old adage: "Business goes where it is invited and stays where it is well treated." We invite you to try our
